TOKISTAR

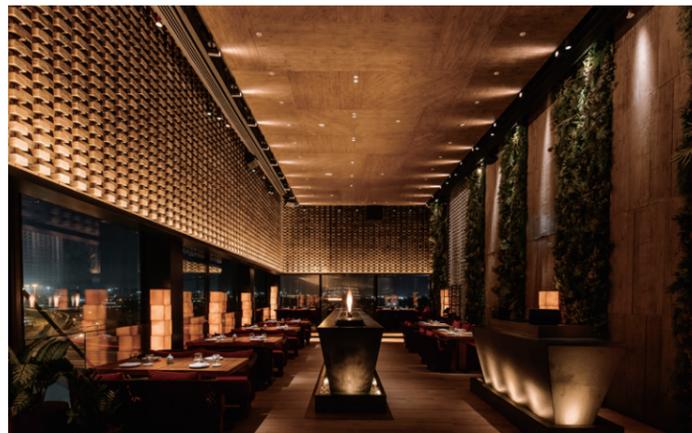

Overview

Tokistar is a professional lighting brand developed under a corporate group with a 55-year history. Our lighting business began in 1981 with the development of Tape Light, which marked the starting point of Tokistar's approach to flexible and high-quality lighting solutions.

Through continuous research and development, and a strong ability to respond to custom requirements, Tokistar maintains a balance between tradition and innovation. By integrating technology, design, and quality, and working closely with regional partners, the brand delivers reliable lighting solutions for professional projects in global markets.

The Beginning of Our Lighting Business

Tokistar was founded as an information service company focused on overseas technologies and materials, beginning with sales agency operations for display-related components. In 1981, the company developed and launched the Tokistar Tape Light, applied for patents in Japan and the United States, and began production and sales—marking the start of Tokistar’s full-scale lighting business.

Current product range

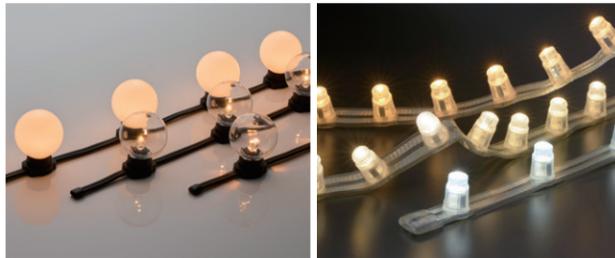

Decorative Lighting Series

Indirect Lighting Series

Micro Series

Full Color Lighting Series (DMX)

Decorative Lighting Series

Centered around the long-established Tape Light and the Exhibitor Globe Series, which has a proven track record in world-renowned theme parks, this decorative lighting series brings a sense of nostalgia and brilliance to spatial environments.

Indirect Lighting Series

Featuring a diverse lineup suitable for a wide range of applications—from architectural facades to hotel guest rooms—this indirect lighting series pursues the beauty of light through proprietary technologies and has been adopted in numerous renowned architectural projects.

Micro Series

Designed to minimize visual presence while maintaining a strong focus on aesthetics, the Micro Series blends seamlessly into creative spaces and delivers light precisely where it is needed. In response to growing demand in recent years, the lineup has expanded to include outdoor products, further broadening the possibilities of the Micro Series.

Full Color Lighting Series (DMX)

Going beyond simple RGBW illumination, this series supports individual control via DMX, offering a high degree of creative freedom. With excellent color-mixing performance, it enables a wide range of expressive lighting effects.

Seeking International Sales Representatives

TOKISTAR is seeking new sales representatives to expand our presence in overseas markets.

We are looking for partners who:

- Represent architectural or specification-grade lighting brands
- Have existing connections with lighting designers, architects, or distributors
- Are motivated to introduce high-quality lighting systems to new markets

If you are interested in representing TOKISTAR in your region, please contact us.
